

Identify Your Support System

1. In the space below, make a list of the people who can and do support you in your business. Divide the list into three categories: Family, Friends, and Professional. Include a few words that describe in what way each person can contribute to your success.
2. Make a second list of the type of support you feel you are lacking. Share this list with friends, family members or co-workers who might help you fill in the blanks. As you work on your business throughout this book, you'll likely identify additional needs or add more people to your team.
